

JAMBOREE 2017-2018

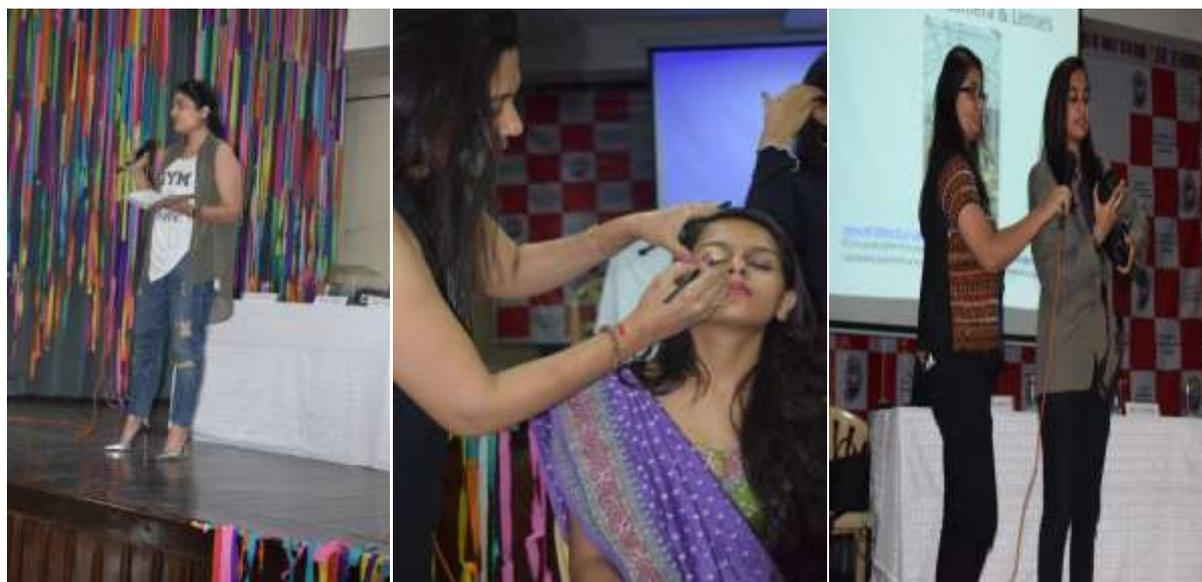

The most awaited festival of the year is “Jamboree” was just round the corner and we all get very excited about it. Jamboree is a celebration and a fest of department of Textile and Fashion Technology and is a student led activity organized by department of Textiles and Fashion Technology. Every year Jamboree is celebrated following a particular theme. The department always plans a theme for Jamboree. This year the theme was ‘REACHING THE UNREACHED’ which was at par with the theme followed by our institute throughout the year. This was the 3rd year of celebration and at the intercollegiate level.

Unlike every year, this year Jamboree celebration was spread on 2 days i.e., 21st and 2nd February, 2018. As it is a student led activity the roles and responsibilities for the event were uniformly distributed among all the students of the department. They were divided into committees such as Registration, Design, Hospitality, Finance, Production and Online marketing. Each committee had the MSc students as heads of the committees and the TY’s were working under their guidance. All the work related to pre event as well as post event was handled by the students.

Day 1 of Jamboree 2018

21st December, 2017 was the first day with competitions, workshops and games. The program started at 9am and the inaugural ceremony i.e., lighting of the lamp was done by Dr. Geeta Ibrahim (Principal), Dr. Ela Dedhia (HOD), Ms. Noella Dias (Administrator), Ms. Dolly Gala (Head for Jamboree), Ms. Hiral Kakka (Asst. Head for Jamboree), Ms. Nidhi Gangar (Asst. Head for Jamboree). Dr. Geeta Ibrahim and Dr. Ela Dedhia spoke a few words about Jamboree. Ms. Dolly Gala gave a small presentation on what Jamboree is all about.

The first speaker for the day was Ms. Meher Sawhney. She has done Bachelor’s in Design and has assisted many designers at Lakme Fashion Week, has illustrated costume design for Shiraz Siddique, has worked as a visual merchandiser and many other one day shows. She shared her journey of college and professional career, the difficulties she faced, the actual hardships of the outside world. She also shared tips on making a resume, on making portfolios, following the trends in fashion.

The second speaker for the day was Ms. Mitali Padia. She is an assistant photographer to Mr. Vikram Shah and works for a company named Kreative Element. She is a genre in fashion and candid photography. She conducted a workshop for the students on basics of photography where she covered topics like position, focus, blur, colour and shape.

The third speaker for the day was a pair of mother-daughter. Mrs. Chetna Chhadwa, who started her career as a mehendi artist and beautician. In 2006, she became a makeup artist and has been in this profession for 12 years now known for bridal makeup and hairstyling. Her keen passion for makeup has always been her motivation to become better year after year and she has been conducting sessions and workshops for the same. Her daughter, Ms. Krushi Chhadwa is currently studying in TYBMM and has keen interest for skincare and makeup. She is a skincare vlogger on Instagram with the name Krushi Chhadwa. Her personal hobbies are to dance and paint. Her biggest inspiration is her mother. They started off by giving some tips for good glowing skin and went on to the basics of makeup with contouring and highlighting. It was a detailed demo session.

There were competitions planned in which there were participants from the college and outside college. The competitions were as such

1. Mould it, Sham it!
2. First Creativity
3. Blind Stylist
4. Design A Space
5. Quest-The-Attire (Treasure Hunt)
6. Mehendika
7. Product Development
8. Wrap, Oomph and Catwalk
9. Fashion Show

The competitions were conducted throughout the day where the students actively volunteered as well as participated in the same.

Day 2 of Jamboree 2018

2nd February, 2018 the much-awaited day when the students of the department showcased their garments for which they had worked round the year. All the garments were designed, stitched, styled and modeled by the students only. The collections were based on the theme 'Reach the Unreached'. The SYs showcased their kurta and straight pants whereas the FYs made children garments like frock, shirt and pants so they shared their ramp with the little ones as their models. The TYs showcased various types of skirts, culottes, and paired them with versatile upper wear. The MSc 1 showcased their talent in designing the ghagracholi in various types of embroideries. The MSc 2 had 7 different designs to showcase with were in sustainability, using of khadi, multi-purpose, draping, costume designing, mens wear ,etc.

The Design Disguise competition themed THE URBAN NOMAD showcased indo-western garments in which there were students participating from colleges like BMN, Amity, SASMIRA, NIFT, Nirmala Niketan Polytechnic. There were garments like ghagracholis, gowns, one piece, culottes, skirts, costume designing, men's wear, all made from fabrics provided to them.

The function started with the inaugural ceremony by Dr. Geeta Ibrahim (Principal), Dr. Gracy Fernandes (Vice President of Nirmala Niketan Institute), Ms. Noella Dias (Administrator), Ms. Nina Dias (Director of Nirmala Niketan Polytechnic), Ms. Farah Sayed (Co-ordinator of Junior College), and the Jury members.

There were 4 Jury members for the judging of the fashion show.

- Ms Geeta Castellano, a Textile Designer, Teacher, Fashion Consultant, CSR Consultant, founder and committee member of Kala Ghoda Arts Festival.
- Ms. Mamta Joshi, CEO of Orange Tree Image and Fashion Consulting.
- Ms. BelaSanghvi, Entrepreneur, Managing Director of Navnidhi Design Solutions Pvt. Ltd., Owner of Purankala, President of The Craft Council of Maharashtra.
- Mr. V R Sai Ganesh, Trustee Chairperson of SDC EC. He is currently working as general manager-marketing at Atul Ltd.

The trophies for this year's Jamboree were sponsored by ZN Skills, Dr ElaDedhia and Society of Dyers and Colorists SDC EC.

The department thanked the sponsors Zehra Noori from ZN Skills for sponsoring the trophies for TYBSc., Dr. Ela Dedhia and SDC EC for all the trophies for final year BSc students, MSc level and all the competitions including Design Disguise. The department also thanked Mr. Hiren Visaria from Mahavir Trading Co. and Mr. Sandeep Arora from Rebello for sponsoring fabric for the Design Disguise Competition.

The department also expressed their gratitude to Maharashtra Times as Media Partner for covering our Jamboree pre-events and fashion show, also Loksatta for having supported us throughout the event.

The entire collections were appreciated by everyone and each student was congratulated for creating such wonderful collections. An award ceremony was conducted to give awards to the students for the best garment from each class. The evening ended with a DJ party for the students and guests.

Jamboree taught the students the importance of commitment, hard work, time management, communication skills, designing and marketing skills etc. Even more excited to bring on new theme for Jamboree next year. So till then stay tuned!

DEPARTMENT OF
TEXTILE AND FASHION TECHNOLOGY
COLLEGE OF HOMO SCIENCE,
INDRAPALACE DELHI

AT THE COLLEGE OF HOMO SCIENCE, INDRAPALACE DELHI

PRESENTS...

JAMBOREE

A STUDENT LED
TEXTILE AND FASHION FESTIVAL

CONTACT DETAILS:-

jambooree@gmail.com

http://jambooree.com

@jambooree1717

@jambooree17_18